

Miller & Rhoads

Mail Orders Filled at Advertised Prices.

Brilliantine and Nun's Veiling Waists, $1.95

The values and former prices range between $2.50 and $2.98.

Some of the garments have plaited fronts, others are plait tailored.

The Brilliantines are in black and white—the Nun's Veiling in brown, garnet, black and navy. Full line of sizes. A big value at $1.95.

50 Covert Coats, $6.95 Values to $10

Short, tight-fitting and semi tight-fitting coats; straps over the shoulders; seams front and back; lined with satin.

Small quantities of several styles that we've put together at one price. All sizes.

A needed garment at a little price, $6.95.

May Manton Patterns, 10c; by mail, 12c.

INTERNE STROLE IS ASKED TO RESIGN

Member of City Ambulance Corps Charged With Being Drunk While on Duty.

ENTERS STRONG DENIAL

Says He Will Not Quit, but Council Will Be Requested to Order Investigation.

Having failed by a tie vote to dismiss Dr. W. R. Strole, interne at the City Home, the Committee on Relief of the Poor, as a compromise, adopted a resolution yesterday calling for his resignation. The resolution provides that if he declines to comply City Council shall be requested to order an investigation, at which witnesses will be required to testify under oath.

Dr. Strole is charged with being drunk on Christmas Eve night while at work on the ambulance. In November he was before the committee on a similar charge, but the case was not pressed in view of his pledge thereafter to abstain from drinking.

Dr. Strole entered a strong denial of the charge. Drs. Hinchman and Woodson stated to the committee yesterday that Dr. Strole was considerably excited, but they could not say that he was under the influence of liquor. Assistant Superintendent Brandt gave as his opinion, however, that he was more or less intoxicated. The ambulance driver testified that from Strole's manner he would say he was drunk.

How the Vote Stood.

There were some rather lively moments at the meeting, culminating in a sharp tilt between Superintendent Davis and one of the members. On motion to demand Strole's resignation the vote stood 3 to 3. Those favoring that course were Messrs. Williams, G. B. Hobson and Julius A. Hobson. Messrs. Elliott, Satterfield and Billy took the young physician's side. The vote, however, was not taken.

By Council if he refuses to resign was 4 to 2. Alderman Satterfield joining in with the Hobsons and Dr. Williams.

Dr. Strole said most emphatically last night that he would not resign; that he was not guilty of the charge; that he knew he was in the right, and expected to see the thing out. Had there been a full meeting of the committee, he added, he was sure the resolution would not have been adopted.

Dr. Strole said most emphatically last night that he would not resign; that he was not guilty of the charge; that he knew he was in the right, and expected to see the thing out. Had there been a full meeting of the committee, he added, he was sure the resolution would not have been adopted.

Dr. Strole said most emphatically last night that he would not resign; that he was not guilty of the charge; that he knew he was in the right, and expected to see the thing out. Had there been a full meeting of the committee, he added, he was sure the resolution would not have been adopted.

Dr. Strole said most emphatically last night that he would not resign; that he was not guilty of the charge; that he knew he was in the right, and expected to see the thing out. Had there been a full meeting of the committee, he added, he was sure the resolution would not have been adopted.

Dr. Strole said most emphatically last night that he would not resign; that he was not guilty of the charge; that he knew he was in the right, and expected to see the thing out. Had there been a full meeting of the committee, he added, he was sure the resolution would not have been adopted.

Dr. Strole said most emphatically last night that he would not resign; that he was not guilty of the charge; that he knew he was in the right, and expected to see the thing out. Had there been a full meeting of the committee, he added, he was sure the resolution would not have been adopted.

Dr. Strole said most emphatically last night that he would not resign; that he was not guilty of the charge; that he knew he was in the right, and expected to see the thing out. Had there been a full meeting of the committee, he added, he was sure the resolution would not have been adopted.

Dr. Strole said most emphatically last night that he would not resign; that he was not guilty of the charge; that he knew he was in the right, and expected to see the thing out. Had there been a full meeting of the committee, he added, he was sure the resolution would not have been adopted.

Dr. Strole said most emphatically last night that he would not resign; that he was not guilty of the charge; that he knew he was in the right, and expected to see the thing out. Had there been a full meeting of the committee, he added, he was sure the resolution would not have been adopted.

Dr. Strole said most emphatically last night that he would not resign; that he was not guilty of the charge; that he knew he was in the right, and expected to see the thing out. Had there been a full meeting of the committee, he added, he was sure the resolution would not have been adopted.

WOMAN DROPS DEAD IN BROAD-STREET BAR

Begged Glass of Whiskey to Rub on Wrist, Got It and Then Expired.

Limping into Gillio Angostino's saloon, at 914 East Broad Street, last night, Julia Austin, a colored woman forty years old, begged for a glass of whiskey, saying she was desperately ill.

"I don't want it to drink," she declared, "please give it to me, quick."

Cases of this kind are not unusual, but Angostino did as she asked, and poured a small quantity in the palm of her hand. She rubbed it on her wrist to deaden her pain, and then collapsed. Two minutes after she was removed to a room in the rear of the bar she died. Dr. Hinchman, of the ambulance corps, was quickly summoned, but when he arrived the woman was dead.

Coroner Taylor gave a certificate to that effect.

NEW RECTOR HERE

Rev. Dr. Morris to Take Charge of Monumental on Sunday.

The Rev. James W. Morris, D. D., rector of Monumental Episcopal Church, arrived in the city yesterday and will begin his work here on Sunday morning.

He preached his farewell sermon before his former congregation at Christ Church, Norfolk, this week.

Dr. Morris is well known in Richmond, where he made many friends while temporarily in charge of St. Paul's Church and Grace Church several years ago.

In making the change to Richmond, Dr. Morris leaves one of the wealthiest churches in the State, which paid him a much larger salary than he will receive at Monumental, but he recognizes a more profitable field here for his talents.

During the convention he was prominently spoken of in the House of Bishops for one of the missionary dioceses. He is very highly educated, having graduated from Princeton College, where he was graduated with the degree of A. M., the University of Georgia, and the University of Virginia, besides graduating from the seminary at Alexandria.

The degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon him by Randolph-Macon College, where he was graduated with the degree of A. M., the University of Georgia, and the University of Virginia, besides graduating from the seminary at Alexandria.

The degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon him by Randolph-Macon College, where he was graduated with the degree of A. M., the University of Georgia, and the University of Virginia, besides graduating from the seminary at Alexandria.

The degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon him by Randolph-Macon College, where he was graduated with the degree of A. M., the University of Georgia, and the University of Virginia, besides graduating from the seminary at Alexandria.

The degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon him by Randolph-Macon College, where he was graduated with the degree of A. M., the University of Georgia, and the University of Virginia, besides graduating from the seminary at Alexandria.

MAJORITY FAVOR ALDERMAN FOR SECRETARY OF CHAMBER

SUCCEEDS OWEN AS MEAT INSPECTOR

Dr. H. K. Walter Comes to Richmond—Has Done Good Work Elsewhere.

Dr. H. K. Walter, of the United States Department of Agriculture, in charge of the inspection of meats in various sections, has succeeded Dr. Frank D. Owen, of this city, as local inspector, and will assume his duties here next week. Dr. Walter comes from Pottsville, Pa., where he has been located for more than a year. His headquarters in Richmond will be at No. 24 Slater building, his predecessor's office. Under Dr. Walter there will be employed about a dozen assistants, who will be subjected to civil service examinations in order to qualify them for these positions. There are more than ten concerns in the central market which will be under the surveillance of Dr. Walter and his assistants.

Eight Years in Service.

Dr. Walter has had over eight years' experience in his particular line of work, and has materially aided in stamping out the impurities in the wholesale and retail preparation and sale of meats in the territory in which he has labored. He is a native of Bucks county, Pa., and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in the class of 1893. His first assignment in the Department of Agriculture was at Indianapolis, Ind., where he remained for seven years. He was then sent to Washington, D. C., and after three months' residence there was transferred to Pottsville, Pa., in November, 1906.

It is understood that Dr. Owen, who retires from the local office, will receive the cattle quarantine service of the government before his former colleague, identified before becoming associated with the Federal meat inspection in the Department of Agriculture. He leaves to-day for New York.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Officers Elected by Ivanhoe Lodge—Installation by Myrtle Lodge.

Ivanhoe Lodge, No. 74, Knights of Pythias, held in Lee Camp Hall last night a large and very enthusiastic meeting for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. The regular business, the members enjoyed an informal smoker.

The recommendation as to dues, which was adopted, provides that the annual dues of corporations, firms and individuals shall be as follows, to be based on their commercial agency ratings:

Class A, exceeding $200,000, annual dues, $200.

Class B, of $150,000 to $200,000, annual dues, $150.

Class C, of $100,000 to $150,000, annual dues, $100.

Class D, of $75,000 to $100,000, annual dues, $75.

Class E, of $50,000 to $75,000, annual dues, $50.

Class F, under $50,000, annual dues, $25.

Class G, individuals not in active business, $25.

Part three of the report of this committee also provided some discussion before its adoption. This section provided for an amendment to the constitution so as to permit the election of the secretary and treasurer by the board of directors, instead of by the chamber at large. This accords with the best custom of modern business houses. The report also provided that a dues list be made up annually instead of two, as at present.

Field Secretary.

The report of the committee on the question of electing a field secretary was read by its chairman, Mr. F. D. Williams, and was referred to the incoming board of directors without discussion. An attempt to go into the merits of the question was checked by Acting Chairman L. Z. Morris, who said that as the present board would not elect, he thought it improper to do more than hear and receive the report and discharge the committee.

The report, which is now on the table of the board of directors, is signed by four of the five members of the committee, and is as follows:

"Your committee appointed to employ a field secretary begs leave to report that its efforts to secure a satisfactory field secretary promptly, in time for work of last spring and summer, were unsuccessful."

"It then developed that amendments to the by-laws would be proposed, transferring the election of the secretary to the board of directors."

"Your committee reached the conclusion that it would be inadvisable to elect the secretary of the field secretary. Whereupon it questioned its authority to employ a secretary, and felt constrained to limit its actions to the following recommendations:

"(1) That the secretary's salary be fixed at $3,000 per annum; that he shall be charged with the general control and duties of the secretary's office, and be specially qualified and required to do the present important work of reorganizing the chamber's membership upon the increased basis of membership to the end of establishing a regular income sufficient for the efficient discharge of the chamber's work."

"(2) That the treasurer's salary be fixed at $2,000 per annum, and that he shall be charged with the general duties of the treasurer and general statistical work."

Recommend Dabney.

"(3) In view of the fact that the final decision must rest with the new board of directors, we simply recommend for the committee, and by the way, in our opinion a man of capacity and excellent qualifications for the place."

"(4) We recommend for treasurer Mr. R. A. Dunlop, in every way qualified for the place, and further especially entitled to it, by reason of his long and able services rendered to the chamber."

The report is signed by Messrs. F. D. Williams, chairman; Henry W. Wood, R. S. Luck and E. C. Laird.

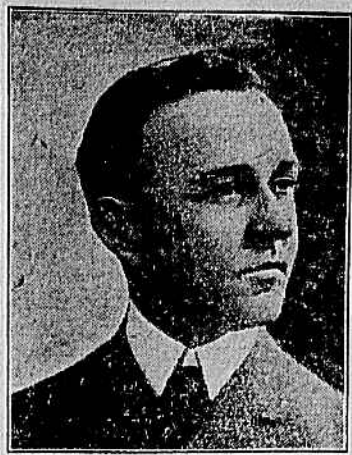

Mr. Langbourne M. Williams, fifth member of the committee, presented a minority report as follows:

"As a member of the committee appointed to consider the selection of a field secretary for the Chamber, I join in the recommendations made by the committee with the exception of naming Mr. Arthur B. Clarke for the position of secretary in the place of Mr. W. T. Dabney."

(Signed) "L. M. WILLIAMS."

In view of the fact that the report was not discussed at the meeting, Mr. E. A. Dunlop, acting secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, declined last night to make any statement, further than to say that he was not a candidate for the office now filled by Mr. John H. Montague, the treasurer of the Chamber.

Dabney Recommended in Report of Committee. Important Changes to Be Proposed.

W. T. DABNEY.

Several changes in the constitution and methods of work of the Chamber of Commerce were proposed at a meeting of the board of directors last night, and were adopted for recommendation to the annual meeting of the general organization.

Mr. W. T. Dabney, member of the Board of Aldermen, was favored by the majority of a special committee for the position of secretary of the Chamber.

The session was largely attended. Mr. F. D. Williams occupying the chair. A special committee consisting of Messrs. Henry W. Wood, E. C. Laird, R. D. Williams, M. J. Straus and N. B. Rowe, to which was referred certain proposed amendments to the constitution and by-laws of the Chamber, presented its report, which, among other things, urged redistribution of the schedule of dues for members of the Chamber. This matter was generally discussed. Chairman Wood stated that on the proposed basis it was estimated that not less than $15,000 a year would be raised from dues, an amount which would make the Chamber so strong financially as to free it from the necessity of asking contributions to various objects from time to time.

Annual Dues.

The recommendation as to dues, which was adopted, provides that the annual dues of corporations, firms and individuals shall be as follows, to be based on their commercial agency ratings:

Class A, exceeding $200,000, annual dues, $200.

Class B, of $150,000 to $200,000, annual dues, $150.

Class C, of $100,000 to $150,000, annual dues, $100.

Class D, of $75,000 to $100,000, annual dues, $75.

Class E, of $50,000 to $75,000, annual dues, $50.

Class F, under $50,000, annual dues, $25.

Class G, individuals not in active business, $25.

Part three of the report of this committee also provided some discussion before its adoption. This section provided for an amendment to the constitution so as to permit the election of the secretary and treasurer by the board of directors, instead of by the chamber at large. This accords with the best custom of modern business houses. The report also provided that a dues list be made up annually instead of two, as at present.

Field Secretary.

The report of the committee on the question of electing a field secretary was read by its chairman, Mr. F. D. Williams, and was referred to the incoming board of directors without discussion. An attempt to go into the merits of the question was checked by Acting Chairman L. Z. Morris, who said that as the present board would not elect, he thought it improper to do more than hear and receive the report and discharge the committee.

The report, which is now on the table of the board of directors, is signed by four of the five members of the committee, and is as follows:

"Your committee appointed to employ a field secretary begs leave to report that its efforts to secure a satisfactory field secretary promptly, in time for work of last spring and summer, were unsuccessful."

"It then developed that amendments to the by-laws would be proposed, transferring the election of the secretary to the board of directors."

"Your committee reached the conclusion that it would be inadvisable to elect the secretary of the field secretary. Whereupon it questioned its authority to employ a secretary, and felt constrained to limit its actions to the following recommendations:

"(1) That the secretary's salary be fixed at $3,000 per annum; that he shall be charged with the general control and duties of the secretary's office, and be specially qualified and required to do the present important work of reorganizing the chamber's membership upon the increased basis of membership to the end of establishing a regular income sufficient for the efficient discharge of the chamber's work."

"(2) That the treasurer's salary be fixed at $2,000 per annum, and that he shall be charged with the general duties of the treasurer and general statistical work."

Recommend Dabney.

"(3) In view of the fact that the final decision must rest with the new board of directors, we simply recommend for the committee, and by the way, in our opinion a man of capacity and excellent qualifications for the place."

"(4) We recommend for treasurer Mr. R. A. Dunlop, in every way qualified for the place, and further especially entitled to it, by reason of his long and able services rendered to the chamber."

The report is signed by Messrs. F. D. Williams, chairman; Henry W. Wood, R. S. Luck and E. C. Laird.

Mr. Langbourne M. Williams, fifth member of the committee, presented a minority report as follows:

"As a member of the committee appointed to consider the selection of a field secretary for the Chamber, I join in the recommendations made by the committee with the exception of naming Mr. Arthur B. Clarke for the position of secretary in the place of Mr. W. T. Dabney."

(Signed) "L. M. WILLIAMS."

In view of the fact that the report was not discussed at the meeting, Mr. E. A. Dunlop, acting secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, declined last night to make any statement, further than to say that he was not a candidate for the office now filled by Mr. John H. Montague, the treasurer of the Chamber.

MADE RECORD RUN FROM WASHINGTON

Michael Jenkins's Special Traveled 116 Miles in 154 Minutes.

Finding it necessary to reach here before the arrival of the express for the Seaboard Air Line, and being unable to wait for the first regular train, Michael Jenkins, a bank and railroad magnate of Baltimore, chartered a special at Washington early yesterday morning and made the run from the capital city to Richmond, 116 miles, in 154 minutes.

The train was known as the Michael Jenkins Special. When he arrived in Washington from Baltimore Wednesday night, Mr. Jenkins made the necessary arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Engineer Joe Tate and Conductor Robert McMahon were in charge of the special, composed of a locomotive and six Pullman coaches. The arrangements with the Richmond, Petersburg and Potomac officials, and was sent away at 12:08 A. M., arriving at the Byrd Street Station at 2:42 o'clock, three quarters of an hour after Judge Pitkin and the Seaboard attorneys had left Danville for this city.

Kaufmann & Co

SALE OF Net and Lace Waists

at much less than cost of production.

While taking inventory we found that many desirable Net Waists are on our hands. We, as usual, quickly recognized the situation, and will inaugurate a total clearance sale to-day. Each Waist has been reduced much less than cost to manufacturer. Owing to the extensive assortment, it is impossible to give a detailed description of each Waist. The leading values are enumerated below:

$2.98	for White net Waists, former prices $3.50 and $7.95.
--------	--